F. OTHER BUSINESS

1. LTC Hines started off by going down the Army National Guard portion of the project list, discussing each project and explaining the gray areas currently working on but not yet completed. LTC Hines also explained the rest of the list is by from the TAG priority list and as money come in or makes FYDP list then year will be assigned. LTC Hines also discussed the Merrillville LRCP might be considered for Joint Project because of location and it will be a new facility and would be able to adapt space because of still being in beginning stages. LTC Hines also said the Allen County Readiness Center (RC) could possibility be a joint facility, as could be a good fit with the Army Reserve. Col Halbrook suggested when we get closer to the Terre Haute Maintenance Shop in FY13 this would be a good fit with the Marine Reserves who currently are located in Terre Haute on Fruitridge Avenue, this would allow the Maintenance Center to still remain in Terre Haute but on the Air Guard Base and this would be good for security and also not much of a move to relocate and update space. LTC Hines ask if anyone has received any stimulus money but every branch stated they had not been on the receiving end of any of the stimulus funds. LTC Hines stated he and Mr. O'Brien who was project manager stay in touch with Navy on the upcoming Stout Field Facility and Air Force Reserve for possibly joint project.

Deleted: Maj Simons ask that the board review each project with discussion led and any needed details given by the Reserve Branch representative present. The first project's reviewed were led by Lt Col Halbrook representing the Air National Guard. Lt Col Halbrook stated that their number one project was the Ramp Upgrade and Expansion, that the FY 05 shown was for Phase I but Phase II is scheduled for FY 09. Lt Col Halbrook stated that all the other projects were still as the FY years shown and they had no joint projects for review

Deleted: .

2. Col Halbrook then was next up to discuss the Air Guard current projects from the project listing. Col Halbrook stated the Allen County Project the Army National Guard has in FY12 is near the current federal facility.

Deleted: LTC Hines then led the review for Army National Guard. LTC Hines stated the AFRC at Lafayette, Indiana was at 76% and the AFRC at Greenwood, Indiana was in the land purchase process. The Readiness Center at Lawrence, Indiana is under design as well. LTC Hines also stated the Readiness Center here at Stout Field has

3. Ms. Debbie Ladd wanted to discuss the Lawrence Facility the Army National Guard is currently working on. She stated herself and Mr. David Lindsey had gotten into Indianapolis the evening prior and driven by the Lawrence location site. Ms. Ladd stated she was concerned about the lack of 24 hour security and that the Marines are slated to share space and because the Marines would have reason to use the facility 3 weekends of every month and that did not leave time for the Navy to have use of that shared space. Ms. Ladd said she would be very interested in a Joint Project with the Army National Guard on the Stout Field Base when the STARC Readiness Center project is done in FY13 especially since the Navy funds are now slated for FY13.

Deleted: slipped to FY 12 and the Field Maint Shop at Terre Haute, Indiana has slipped to FY 13. LTC Hines also stated the National Guard has a Grow the Army type Project slated for 2011 in Northern Indiana, and would like to discuss a potential venture with the USAR regarding Federal Property (Kingsbury). There was no representative for the Army Reserve in attendance so the discussion will have to continue in another forum. LTC Hines then stated that all other projects on this year's project list were correct as shown.¶

4. Mr. John Ellis then spoke for the Marine Reserve. Mr. Ellis discussed the change of the Joint Project and the available funds have been moved from FY11 to FY13 due to being lined up with the Army Reserve. So the Marines would like to still stay with the Lawrence Facility instead of considering a move like the Navy, to the new STARC Facility at Stout Field.

Deleted: Maj Simons then stated that he had spoken to both Stephanie Warhol and Bob Wendler as the Army Reserve representatives and they had stated they were working with the Army Reserve on the AFRC at (... [1]

5. Mr. David Hughes discussed his projects from the project listing and stated the Conference Center would be a new project and be could be considered for possible joint if anyone is interested in a need in that area at Grissom, Indiana.
